

EWC Update for April 3

- Face Masks: In light of changing expert advice about how we can prevent the spread of COVID-19 throughout our community, the East-West Center recommends that staff and housing residents use face coverings as an additional public health measure. If you have a mask, we strongly recommend that you wear it when in public spaces. Do not give yourself a false sense of security by wearing a mask. Wearing a mask does not replace the need for strict social distancing and frequently washing your hands with soap. Please note that the primary purpose of the mask is to protect against virus transmission from people who could be infected but have no symptoms.
- East-West Center support: Yesterday we advised that we have been working hard to source a large number of masks, to make available to both staff and residents at no cost. We initially ordered masks in January but vendors delayed our orders due to problems with supply. Fortunately, EWC alumni have rallied and donated masks. These donated masks arrived today! Due to this generous donation, EWC is now able to give 5 face masks to each housing resident. Please collect your allocated masks at Hale Manoa front desk #AloneTogether #EWCAloha
- Face Mask: when should I wear them? Please wear a mask whenever you interact with other people. For example, wear a mask when you go to the grocery store, or when using a shared kitchen at EWC housing, or when riding the bus. Remember, the mask is to supplement social distancing and frequent hand washing, not to replace them. Maintain proper social distancing and do not get close to another individual because you are wearing the mask. It does not provide complete protection for either the person you are near or for you.
- Face Masks: what kind? At this stage, there is no agreed or legislated “standard” for masks. Based on a growing consensus of expert advice, EWC recommends simple cloth coverings that cover the mouth and nose will suffice. This includes “home-made” cloth masks. The cloth covering is not intended to protect the wearer - social distancing and frequent hand washing are still your best defense against getting infected - but wearing a cloth covering can help reduce the spread of the virus from yourself to others.

- Face Covering: what if I don't have one? At this stage, there is a shortage of masks in Hawaii. Both simple surgical masks and medical grade masks like the N95 are still being prioritized for frontline healthcare workers, leaving them in short supply for the public. We recommend making your own cloth covering until you are able to source a mask. We have included two references in the Resources section below for example, but there are also many sources on masks/covering available online.
